Brethren and friends,

Payson, where elk run free

THE RIM COUNTRY CHURCH

In our series of studies on Temptation, we have finished the second lesson on anger. Everyone appreciated the four week study. We began our next Sunday morning study on purity in November.

I am still struggling with the right use of the digital projector in my sermons. The older I get, the more dependent I am on my detailed notes. I am still experimenting with the best way for me to be as effective as I can with the medium. My lessons for October began with "Does God hears a Sinner's Prayer." The next two Sundays I preached about laying up our treasures in heaven, using the treasure recovered from the sunken Spanish gallon the Atocha and the faith and determination it took to achieve the goal. The second part was on the effect of the exposure of such (spiritual) treasure on one's life. The last lesson was "Giving Thanks for the Godly Influences in Your Life." This last subject is neglected much of the time.

Joanne's ladies' class resumed on a as-can basis dependent on the amount of pain she is able to bear. I understand those who attend are encouraged by the classes. They were even willing to meet in our home so that Joanne has access to what she needs.

Visitors- We had two sets of visitors this past month. One from "the valley" (Phoenix area) and Ann Lee from a small place called Pine nearby. She is a Christian who attended two times. Her mother is also a Christian but is a shut-in.

DIRECTION WITH JOANNE'S HEALTH

Finally we saw the necrologist. My wife was in such pain at the time and the doctor asked "What is wrong with you." The doctor had all the paper work ahead of time and this did not get us off on the right foot. Finally, he told her that the muscles that lift up her legs are so weak that they cramp when they are overused (which takes little effort at all before they cramp). He suggested exercises that required the painful use of those muscles. But just to be on the safe side, he referred us to a more specialized doctor to make sure there was nothing more to it. It will be a couple of months to wait for that appointment. Unfortunately, he said there is nothing that can be done for the leg pain itself due to deep vein breakdown. (The next day, Joanne did the exercises when her pain was reduced–and had no trouble at all...)

AFRICA - Brethren in Zimbabwe continue to report on insufficient food for the brethren and their families.
